

Contents

Introduction	1
Shakespeare and the National Curriculum 1
The Shakespeare paradox 2
GCSE 3
Starting Shakespeare 4
The problem of language 5
Why a practical approach? 5
What a practical approach involves 8
1 Rites of Transition	10
Organizing a practical session 10
Introductory games and physical exercises 12
Games 16
Physical exercises 20
Vocal exercises 22
Speaking Shakespeare: the choric method 24
Follow-up work 27
Postscript 28
2 Speaking the Text	30
A Midsummer Night's Dream 31
Session 1: Preparation 32
Timing 34
Starting practical work 34
Follow-up work 36
Session 2: Preparation 36
Starting practical work 37
Follow-up work 38
Session 3: Preparation 38
Starting practical work 39
Speaking the text 40
Adding percussion 41
Follow-up work 42
Session 4: Preparation 43
Timing 44
Starting practical work 44
Follow-up work 49
Romeo and Juliet 49
Session 1: Preparation 50
Timing 51
Using dance 51
Starting practical work 52
Adding music 54
Adding masks 55
Follow-up work 55
Session 2: Preparation 56
Starting practical work 58
Further exercises 60
Follow-up work 65
Postscript 60

3	Practical Approaches to Hamlet, Macbeth and Julius Caesar	67
	Hamlet 67 Macbeth 76 Julius Caesar 87
4	Walking Through	96
	Active reading 96 Objectives 99 A classroom-based rehearsal 101 Further notes on interpreting the play 109 Postscript 115
	Discography	116
	Contemporary music 116 Period music 117 Sound effects 118
	Bibliography	119
	Visual Material	121
	Paintings 121 Shakespeare on Video 121
	Index	123