

CONTENTS

AUTHOR'S NOTE	7
INTRODUCTION – HUMANISM, ANALOGY OF BEING AND SPIRITUALITY	9
I. POETIC KNOWING AND CONTEMPLATIVE EXPERIENCE	17
1.1. William Blake and St. Thomas	17
1.2. Epistemology and the Metaphysical Sense of Being in The Ascent to Truth	26
1.3. Poetry and Mysticism	30
1.4. The Ontology of the Poetic Word in Poetry, Symbolism and Typology	36
1.5. The Theo-anthropological Concept of the Origin of Poetry in The New Man	41
1.6. Metaphor – From Contemplation to Hermeneutics	46
II. CHRIST THE WORD – IN SEARCH OF THE FOUNT OF ALL ART	57
2.1. Early Metaphor – The Flight to (Un)Likeness	57
2.2. The Voice of Ancestors – St. John of the Cross and the Dark Night	76
2.3. Merton and Lowell – Metaphysical Poetry in the Time of Crisis	89
2.4. T. S. Eliot and Thomas Merton – “Where is the Third One?”	107
2.5. Poetry and Wisdom – The Apex Metaphor, Not a Transitional Point	124
2.6. Dreams and Purgation	154
2.7. Inverted Metaphor – Or the Way out of Absurdity	168
CONCLUSION	197
BIBLIOGRAPHY	207