

Contents

Introduction

Mariusz Maszkiewicz

Belarus – towards a United Europe..... 5

I European Programmes for Belarus

Vyachaslau Pazdnyak

Expanding European neighbourhood menus for Belarus:

In search of a gourmet21

Alena Rakava

Evaluation of the previous programmes of the European Union..... 42

II Belarusian Society and Authorities

in the Process of Searching the European Way

Andrey Lyakhovich

Belarus' ruling elite: Readiness for dialogue and cooperation with the EU61

Yury Chavusau

Belarus' civil society in the context of dialogue with the EU 82

Iryna Vidanava

I'm Lovin' It! Belarusian youth and Europe..... 98

Ihar Lyalkou

The EU in the platforms of Belarus' political parties 117

III Belarus and NATO

Andrey Fyodarau

Belarus-NATO relations: Current state and prospects 129

IV In the Mirror of Sociological Studies and Political Processes

Syarhey Nikalyuk

Sociological data on attitudes to the European Union in Belarus147

Valery Karbalevich

Belarus-EU relations: New trends.....172

Yury Likhtarovich

Ideological, historical and political reasons behind anti-Western rhetoric in Belarusian society 185

V Belarusian Local Authorities and Self-Government vis-a-vis the European Union

Anatol Lysyuk, Maryna Sakalouskaya

Local communities and local authorities in Belarus' border areas:
EU-oriented

Alyaksandr Zhuchkou

Readiness and opportunities for local self-government reform in the Republic of Belarus 212

VI Belarusian Economy and the EU Cooperation Prospects

Mikhal Zaleski

The Belarusian economy's ability to begin transformation in the context of its possible future entry into the European Union 231

Conclusion

Alyaksandr Milinkevich

Belarus needs active dialogue and integration with the EU 257