

The introduction and general characteristic of research problems. Method of research / Aleksander Maksimczuk	3
Chapter 1 Cross- border and ecology in the new (EU) conditions of development the Eastern Borderlands of Poland and Podlaskie voivodship
/ Aleksander Maksimczuk, Ilona Edyta Wakuluk	9
1.1 Introduction	9
1.2 Eastern Borderlands of Poland as a tool to widen international cooperation	10
1.3 The importance of regional cooperation in the EU cohesion policy	13
1.3.1 Water resources management and water protection	15
1.3.2 Pollution and Air Protection	18
1.3.3 The disposal of wastes	22
1.3.4 Nature and landscape preservation	26
1.4 Summary	27
Chapter 2 Is the new quality of borders can effectively contribute to the change in growth opportunities throughout the area of the Eastern Borderlands of Poland and the Podlaskie voivodship?
/ Aleksander Maksimczuk	28
2.1 Introduction	28
2.2 Some remarks on the evolution of functioning on the national borders	30
2.3 The ongoing changes in the permeability of the Polish state border - from the "Iron Curtain" to the Schengen	33
2.4 The size and diversity of regional trends in trade in Poland	36
2.4.1 The European Union and the regional development disparities	36
2.4.2 How the issues of inequality of development are in relation to the Eastern Borderlands of Poland and the selected items in the Podlaskie voivodship?	37
2.5 Peripheral and cross-border development in conditions of the Podlaskie voivodship	41
2.5.1 Are inhabitants of Podlaskie, by the sociological criteria, constitute the so-called regional community?	41
2.5.2 In what area may be seen a real chance of Podlasie region and at least significantly reduce still existing development gap?	43
2.6 Under what additional conditions border location might be a possibility of local economic recovery? An attempt to assess the example of Polish-Russian (Kaliningrad Oblast) border	45
2.7 Border traffic factor for economic recovery in border regions in example of the Polish-Ukrainian border	49

2.8 Cross-border trade as one of the important intensification factors of the border movement of people	52
2.9 Summary.....	56
Chapter 3 Sanitary - epidemiological safety - is it still a current problem in the functioning of the external border of the Eastern Poland ?
/ Ewa Kleszczewska	58
3.1 Introduction.....	58
3.2 Sanitary- epidemiological safety in the light of documents and functioning of the European Union- general comments	60
3.3 Is migration flow into the sanitary- epidemiological safety in the European Union?.....	62
3.4 An attempt to evaluate the activities of EU institutions (member states) for the protection of life and health of the population- with particular emphasis on food safety.....	64
3.5 Is the Polish legal system harmonized with the European Union provides the necessary epidemiological security?	70
3.6 Sanitary- epidemiological, veterinary and phytosanitary border control expression of aspiration to ensure effective border security.....	73
3.7 What shall be the joint cross- border activities to improve public health and safety?	76
3.8 Summary.....	79
Chapter 4 Changes in the functioning of the EU's borders in relation to Euro 2012 - with particular emphasis on the Polish Eastern border
/ Ewa Kleszczewska, Ilona Edyta Wakuluk.....	80
4.1 Introduction.....	80
4.2 Notes on the organizational and legal preparations currently conducted activities related to Euro 2012	83
4.3 Border crossing inside and outside of the European Union during the Euro 2012	85
4.4 Benefits and costs of the organization of Euro 2012 in Poland	88
4.5 Perspectives for the development Podlasie region in the context of Euro 2012.....	91
Conclusions / Aleksander Maksimczuk	95
List of Tables.....	100
List of Charts	100
The list of abbreviations	101
Bibliography	104