

CONTENTS

Foreword.....	5
----------------------	----------

Section I. Theoretical and macroscale issues

M. Koter — The geographical-historical region: its notion, origin and factors in its development.....	7
J. Kalkwiek — Regionalism as a decentralization process in Western Europe	27
A. L. Sanguin — The disappearance of boundaries in the European Union: from cross-border regions to Euroregions.....	29
W. Maik — An attempt to define the bases of new regional and spatial policy in the period of socio-economic transformation (the case of Poland).....	35
D. Rumley — Centre and periphery in the Australian Federal State	41

Section II. Regional problems in ethnic cultural aspects

A. Trono — Italy: from regionalism to federalism?	47
F. Carter — National minorities/ethnic groups in Bulgaria; regional distribution & cross border links	61
Z. Rykiel — The cultural split of Upper Silesia	87
I. Ushkalov, I. Malakha — Regional processes and the migration situation in Russia and the former Soviet Union	95
R. Prokop — Nationality in the Český Těšín region	103

Section III. Regionalism and regionalization

J. Zupančič, P. Repolusk — Regionalism in Istria	109
K. Rembowska — Local and regional consciousness, the case of the Łódź region.....	117
Y. Shilhav — Regionalism, territory and sovereignty — the Israeli scene	123
V. Baran — Problems of regionalization in ethnically heterogeneous regions of southern Slovakia.....	129

Section IV. Transborder cooperation and Euroregions

M. Bufon — Local elements of borderland status and the formation of cross-border areas	137
M. Soja, A. Zborowski — The socio-economic basis of the Carpathian Euroregion	145
W. Drobek — Water economics in the upper Odra River basin — some aspects of bordering regions cooperation	153

Section V. Political, socio-economic, territorial questions

K. Heffner — Regional administrative division and local government transition in Poland	159
L. Stenman — The future of the county of Wermland — a successful region or a depressed area within a new, extended region?	177
V. Zhideleva — Socio-territorial aspects of regional development in the European North of the Russian federation	187
J. Vencálek — The relationship between demography and economic tendencies in the region of northern Moravia and Czech Silesia	191
A. Szajnowska-Wysocka — The political sphere in the Upper Silesian conurbation	197
S. Sala — The attitude of Polish inhabitants residing in the former eastern borderland to the possibility of their return after the deportation: a methodological formulation	203
M. Tkocz — The concepts of structural change in the Katowice region and their implementation in the period of socio-economic transformation	207